WANT TO SEE BUILDING START HERE

Builders, contractors, house furnishers, dealers, hardware men, real estate and insurance men were at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors Wednesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, where they heard discussions of the suggestions from the government at Washington to push building plans in this section so as to help create an era of prosperity and to furnish work for returned soldiers and sailors.

The general sense of the meeting was that the new houses should be started at just as early a date as possible and a committee consisting of President Frank J. King, Secretary M. J. Randall and Robert McNelly was appointed to visit the district where several hundred houses have just been started to see what they have done and how they are managing their proposition. Those to speak were Robert McNelly, James L. Case, E. O. Rodier, C. J. Ishister, George H. Young, William McQuirk, Arthur Jenkins, Will L. Stearns, F. J. King and L. J. Randall.

The discussion was opened by Secretary Randall reading correspondence sent out by the government asking for the cooperation of the chamber. Other letters and correspondence was read which had been sent in by the United States Chamber of Commerce urging the local chamber to get active.

Mr. McNelly who had been asked to make a study of the matter and to present it to the directors then said that in looking over the various and numerous reports submitted from the material gathering and the department at Washington there is evidence of a building boom all over the country. In view of the fact that generally speaking building has been going on for the last three years, from the best authority available, there is proof that the cost of building now is not so great when compared to the cost of every other thing as it was in 1914. Mr. McNelly quoted from figures submitted by Professor Fisher of Yale University and the United States service to show that prices are not coming down as quickly as people are led to imagine. He said that the cost of building now should not be the all important thing to consider.

The need of homes in this city ought to have first place in the thought and in the endeavor of the chamber. It is the duty of the chamber to see that the cost of building now should not be the all important thing to consider. The need of homes in this city ought to have first place in the thought and in the endeavor of the chamber. It is the duty of the chamber to see that the cost of building now should not be the all important thing to consider.

Both bride and groom are popular and have the wish of their many friends for a long and happy married life. The bride's going away gown was of tulle gray with hat to match. The bride carried a large bouquet of white roses and many beautiful and useful presents including furniture, linen, cut glass and money, one of which was a substantial check from the bride's father.

H. Lamb by H. C. Preston, general manager of Connecticut Humane society, of which Dr. Lamb has been agent for over thirty years. In a recent letter Mr. Preston states that hundreds of cards and slides have been displayed in other places, for which the society is most grateful.

At Sacred Heart church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock Miss Ellen Margaret Shahan and Charles Carter Bradley were united in marriage. The impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. William H. Kennedy owing to the illness of Rev. Charles W. Brennan, rector of the church. As the bride and groom were escorted by Miss Elizabeth Malone, the church organist. The ceremony was followed by a nuptial high mass. The choir sang and at the offertory Mrs. Moran Cronin in excellent voice gave Ave Maria. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played as a recessional. The bride's sister, Mrs. Katharine Shahan, was bridesmaid and James Shahan, brother of the bride, was best man.

There was a large gathering of relatives and friends at the church. The altar was beautifully decorated with calla lilies, roses, carnations and daffodils. The bride was lovely in a gown of white georgette crepe, her veil being caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid was gown in peach color georgette crepe with large black lace hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride on West Town street. The rooms were decorated with cut flowers and ferns. There were many choice gifts, including silver, cut glass, linen, money and household furniture. TWO COUNTY SENATORS CAST VOTES FOR SUFFRAGE

In attendance at the vote in the senate at Hartford Wednesday upon the plan of the Groton Iron Works, two county senators who have been prominently connected with the company resigned this week. R. O. in protest against the vote, a view of the company's affairs of the company.

It is learned that aside from the above officials who have resigned that a large number of employees in various departments have been discharged and a number of the office force have been dismissed. A general shake-up in progress at the Groton Iron Works, it is understood, is a view of the company's affairs of the company.

John McCarroll of New London, who was formerly agent for the Central Vermont railroad and who has been traffic manager for the Iron Works, succeeds Mr. Oertel as purchasing agent, and M. J. White succeeds Mr. Allen as chief cost engineer. Mr. Conlin said there was nothing further to announce concerning the affairs of the company.

Salaries have been cut right and left and it is the intention of the railroad to require every man on the payroll of the company to render full service for the compensation awarded.

PUTNAM WIFE CHARGES HUSBAND WITH BIGAMY

George C. Allen, a man 65 years of age or more, was arraigned in the New London police court Wednesday morning, charged with bigamy in having married Lillian A. Fisher in 1899 and while she was still alive and in full health to have married Miss M. Goodwin, a woman some years his junior, she was in court with Allen when he was arraigned. It is understood that the first wife, who makes the complaint against him, now lives in Putnam.

Witnesses that are to testify in the case could not be had Wednesday, so the case was continued until May 1st. Allen was arrested at Westerly, Mass., where he and his latest bride were spending a few days. Officer Howard went there and brought Allen and his recent bride to New London.

Allen has been employed at the Groton Iron Works and he has also been a bartender in New London. It was the intention of the pair to go to Waterford to reside, as Allen has a house there.

He will reside in jail for a time, as he could not furnish a bond of $1,000 to keep out of that place until the first of May.

Sent Body to Bridgeport. The body of Thomas F. Quinn, 62, was sent by Undertakers Shea & Burke to Bridgeport on the 10.30 train on Tuesday morning. The body was accompanied by relatives. Mr. Quinn died in this city on Sunday following a lingering illness.

North Stonington After Hun Helmet. North Stonington has now $2400 toward the Victory loan and 15 subscribers. Nothing has yet been reported from the outlying districts of the village. The rivalry for the German helmet to be awarded the most proficient bond salesman is keen. One woman of the village says if she sets it she'll throw it into the pond. But she hopes she'll get it for the satisfaction this little expression of just how she feels toward the Hun, would give her.
